A HAPPY AND PROSPEROUS NEW YEAR TO ALL OUR READERS

Local Summer Resident Heads Important Work Of Women's Activities

The Christian Science Monitor in its issue of December 26, publishes an interview and account of the new work undertaken by Miss Daisy B. Treen, as Director of the new Household Problems Bureau of the Women's Educational and Industrial Union of Boston. Miss Treen is a summer resident of this town with a cottage in the Highlands and she has been much interested in the work of the Northfield Seminary, being at one time a trustee. During the past summer she taught the nutrition class under the auspices of the local Civilian Defense committee, out of which was formed the local Canteen corps, of Northfield. Many women enjoyed the privilege of carrying on the studies with her. Miss Treen has an eminent background of experience. She was graduated from the Home Economics department of Pratt Institute, was director of the Commons at the University of North Dakota, where she was given her A.B. degree. She studied at Columbia in the field of nutrition and went to Boston as director of school lunches for the city of Boston, under the Women's Educational and Industrial Union. Two years ago she retired after 25 years of service, but is now pressed again into service to head up this new important bureau on household problems, in this war time emergency. Miss Treen claims no super knowledge but with her charming personality and winning smile, endeavors to study all problems of housewives as presented and solve them in an acceptable manner. The new effort in the women's activities of the city of Boston is already meeting with an unbounded success. Miss Treen was interviewed quite fully by a representative of the Monitor and the glowing account of over two columns is most humanly interesting. Also published is a photograph of Miss Treen taking up one of her problems with a housewife.

Oranges Being Sold At Previous Price

Just as the Press goes to print, we have received a telegram from Spurgeon Gage, saying that he will fill orders at the previously low prices mentioned in the advertising of our columns. There seems to be plenty of the fruit just now ready and coming into market but when the extra supply is taken up, there will be higher prices. If you contemplate ordering a bushel of oranges or grapefruit, better get in your order at once to Mr. Bigelow at the East Northfield Post-office. Orders for two large shipments were sent in by Mr. Bigelow this week.

"Wires For War" Messages Are Limited Consider Carefully

The Western Union Telegraph Co., which has its office for transmission at the Northfield hotel, makes public to all, the following regulation of the Board of War Communications, by order dated December 17. "Telegraph carriers are not permitted, commencing December 22, to accept for transmission, domestic messages of felicitation or congratulations. This applies not only to Christmas and other special occasion messages, but to messages of felicitation or congratulations on births, weddings, anniversaries and birthdays."

'Twas Hard Storm

Three days of snow, rain, and sleet brought a hard storm to this vicinity and travel on the highways was increasingly difficult. The climax on Wednesday morning was reached when trees bent and cracked under the weight of ice. There was no electricity and wires were presumed down. Hundreds of trees suffered and ended their usefulness.

The Fortnightly

The next meeting of the Fortnightly will be held Friday afternoon, January 8, at 3 o'clock, at Alexander hall, when the guest speaker will be Mrs. Helen Gethman of the faculty of the Seminary. The tea hostesses will be Mrs. George Pefferle, Mrs. Joseph W. Field and Mrs. Charles L. Johnson.

AMERICA AWAKE!

Outside the inn, in Bethlehem, In days long, long ago, The blessed Son of God was born; "No room" inside, you know.

Outside the town of Nazareth In days long, long ago, They sought to crush Him o'er the brink,

To crush His life below. Outside His own Jerusalem They led this Holy One To Calvary's hill; and there He died— God's well beloved Son!

No room on earth for Him,—but lo!

He's risen from the tomb Above a place for Him is found In Heaven's highest room.

And still He seeks a room below. America, awake! Oh! open heart and life to Him His blessings to partake.

Tis only as we give Him place Shall war and sorrows cease; Oh worship! and for Him make room, For Christ—the Prince of Peace!

—Marie L. Olson.

The Unitarian Church

Services on Sunday, January 3, at 10:45 a. m.: Service of worship, sermon topic: "Creative Religion." Rev. Arthur Heeb, minister. Mrs. L. Percy Goodspeed, choir leader and organist. A cordial welcome to all. Church school, 10 a. m., topic, "Lend a Hand!"

Last Sunday Mr. Heeb's New Year's theme was "Another Year of God." Recalling the words of the Persian poet, "Now the New Year, reviving old desires the thoughtful soul to solitude retires," he said: Religion declines when we do not know what to do with our solitude. Creative solitude is religion. Loneliness is thrust upon us by our selfishness and sense of regret. We should seek solitude. At this time of year, when we review old days and old times and this year of great world happenings it is well for us to take account of the habit of Jesus, inviting the solace of solitude.

There are three things this world and God may not give but we can take. If you do not find peace hidden in your heart at the present moment you will never find it. This is true of joy and soul power.

Let us salute the New Year with these precious gifts we cannot take because they are hidden in our hearts and may be found if we use our solitude constructively.

Mrs. Sherman N. Bartlett

The body of Mrs. Sherman N. Bartlett, wife of Sherman N. Bartlett of Rockville, Conn., who died last Sunday was brought here for burial Wednesday in Center cemetery. She was 78 years of age. She was active in the Christian Science church and was a leader in the faith and a representative of that church conducted the funeral services. Beside her husband, she is survived by a daughter and two grandchildren. Mr. Bartlett as a boy had lived in Northfield on the farm of Henry Ward on Maple street in the place now occupied by Henry Russell.

Limit Use Of Phone

Recently and even within the past few days, some local subscribers have been using their phones for extended social conversations. Such a conversation hindered a most important business call on a party line in the last few days. Remember we are in war, use your phone for necessary purposes and make your conversations short. All lines should be kept free and open for actual requirements.

A V-Home conserves—but does not hoard—food, household supplies, and vital materials. "Hoarders," says OGD, "are on the same level as spies." Conservation is one of the five qualifications of a V-Home. Ask your Air Raid Warden or Block Leader about the other four. Make yours a V-Home! Gluyas Williams contributed the illustration.

Daniel VanValkenburgh Dies In Hermon Home

Daniel VanValkenburgh of Gill, well known resident and former employee of Mount Hermon school, died at the home of his son, Emmett W. VanValkenburgh, on the Mount Hermon road, last Sunday at the age of 81 years. He was born in Joplin, Mo., the son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel VanValkenburgh of Albany county, New York.

He was a blacksmith and a farmer and for many years conducted a ranch in Douglas, Wyoming, before coming to Mount Hermon. In 1887 he was married to Louella Beebe, who died a number of years ago. He leaves four children, Donald H. VanValkenburgh of Barnardston; Mrs. Louella Couden of Sumpter, S. C.; Mrs. Mizpah Woolfenden of Pasadena, Cal., and Emmett W. VanValkenburgh, with whom he had made his home. There are five grandchildren and two great grandchildren. He was a member of Harmony Lodge of Northfield and of the Odd Fellows' lodge of Newfane, Vt. He had many friends and always proved himself a most interesting individual. The funeral services were held at the Gill Congregational church on Tuesday afternoon with Rev. A. L. Truesdell of Barnardston officiating and with the ritual of the Masonic fraternity conducted by Harmony lodge.

The body was taken to Altamont, N. Y., for burial in Fairview cemetery.

Mrs. Flora E. Wiles

Mrs. Flora E. Wiles of Erving, widow of Howard Leandrea Wiles, died after a long illness at her home, on Christmas day and the funeral was held at Wittys funeral home in Orange on Sunday with Rev. Gordon S. Kenison of the Methodist church officiating. She was born in Millers Falls. She had been a resident of Erving for many years, but for some time made her home with Mrs. W. A. White on Birnam road. She is survived by a sister, Mrs. Carrie Watson of Erving, and two brothers, Oscar Britt of Orange, and William Britt of Athol. Burial was in the Erving cemetery. She had many friends in Northfield, who will remember her.

Engagement Announced

The engagement of Ruth (Bonnie) Weidner of Bethlehem, Pa., to William M. Marshall, Jr., son of Captain and Mrs. William Marshall of East Northfield, was announced Christmas Day. Miss Weidner has visited here many times. Mr. Marshall attended Mt. Hermon school and is now employed at the Bethlehem Steel Works. He expects to be called in the service very soon at which time he will be in the 87th Regiment and will be located in Colorado.

B. & M. Profit Increases

Net income of $1,152,519.94 over fixed charges and $804,944.86 after contingent charges was earned by the Boston and Maine railroad in November. This compared with net income of $1,177,636.21, reported by the road in November, 1941.

Lt. and Mrs. Robert S. Porter announce the birth of a daughter, Lois Jeanne, on December 17, in Bethlehem, Pa. Lt. Porter has written that he is "somewhere in North Africa." The grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Philip Porter of East Northfield, and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Zart of Bethlehem, Pa.

President's Birthday Marked By Events To Aid Paralysis Fight

President Roosevelt's birthday on January 30 will be marked by many events throughout the nation to aid in the campaign for funds to fight infantile paralysis. All monies received will be given to the National Foundation, Inc.

A publicity notice has come to the Press for announcement but the details of the effort in Franklin county have not been decided, nor have any appointments of workers been made. It is probable that there will be a county observance as in recent years, held in Greenfield and citizens of the various towns will be asked to cooperate.

Contribution boxes will doubtless be found at the postoffices and in the local stores as in former years.

Last year, Lawrence D. Quinlan, Northfield postmaster, was the local representative on the county committee and quite a sum of money was received here. When the observance was held by each town, dances were held at the Town hall and there is now a sum of money to be available, held here by the local trustees. This community is fortunate in that it has had no case of infantile paralysis.

Town Topics

The engagement has been announced of Miss Helen Russell Ross of Middlebury, Vt., to William Bradford Patterson of Gibbstown, N. J. Miss Ross is a graduate of the Seminary and now in her senior year at Radcliffe college.

Mrs. James A. Carpenter, daughter of Mrs. Hazel Purrington, is with her family on Highland avenue. Mr. Carpenter has recently joined the Ski Troops and is stationed in Colorado. Mr. and Mrs. Carpenter formerly lived in Wheeling, West Virginia.

Miss Betty Jean Purrington of Highland avenue is visiting a school friend, Miss Mary Alice Cary in Bradford. Miss Cary will return with her couple of days before the Seminary opens.

Mrs. Host Moody prepared another enticing Neighborhood Night this week Wednesday evening at the hotel with a menu of savory chicken pie or roast leg of lamb and raspberry chiffon pie for topping. No wonder they are popular events.

Mount Hermon school will reopen after Christmas vacation next Monday and the Seminary will start its classes next Wednesday. The next important events on the calendar are Founder's Day observed in both schools on February 4 and the Winter Carnival at the Seminary on February 6.

Frank W. Pearsall, named some time ago as the chairman of the local War Savings committee at the request of the U. S. Treasury, is reorganizing his organization and will soon have something to say of interest to our citizens.

Public And Papers Asked Not To Tell Armed Forces Facts

From Washington, Byron Price of the office of Censorship issues an appeal to all editors and to the public for full co-operation in not revealing the identity of any units of the Army or Navy serving abroad.

Fully complying with the request, the Press will not publish the address of any local person in the service, who has left our shores.

The names of all ships, the identity of the service unit, or the exact or probable location where the individual is serving will be deleted. The public are requested to refrain from giving individual addresses in detail to any person or persons and to hold the same, if in their knowledge as confidential.

CLOSE TO GOD

Give him a plow beneath his sturdy hands, And acres of your richest heav'nly lands, A team of prancing horses sleek and strong, A loving, faithful dog to trail along The cool, damp furrows of the turning sod, For thus he walked on earth, close to his God.

"Why are road hogs like poor golfers?"

"That's because both have a weakness for driving out of bounds."

Amateur Golfer: "Tsk! Tsk! Surely there can't be any worse players than I am." Instructor: "There are maybe worse players, but they dinna' play."

Officer: "Now tell me, what is your idea of strategy?" Recruit: "It's when you're out of ammunition, but keep right on firing."

Among the evacuees arriving in a village were two boys very much alike. "Twins?" asked the billeting officer. "No, sir," said the lads in unison. Then, when he filled in their forms, he noted they both gave the same birthday.

"But you said you weren't twins," he exclaimed. "We ain't, sir. We're what's left of triplets."

2. Buy WAR BONDS till it hurts (and dream about the new electric range and things I'll buy with the money later).
3. Save SCRAP (I really should go over those things in the attic again). Tin cans, too.
4. Take care of my ELECTRIC SERVANTS (I'd hate to be without my electric range and refrigerator).
5. Do more Civilian Defense work (a couple of more hours a week won't kill me).
6. Keep my family fighting fit by feeding them nutritious foods correctly cooked (my electric range will help), and by protecting their precious eyes with proper light (I.E.S. lamps with proper size bulbs will help).
7. Starting today, I WILL save fats and greases (funny how hard it is to break old habits).
8. Write CHEERFUL letters regularly to my friends in the service (if I were out there I sure would like to meet the mailman).
